

Senate Committee to Probe Pennsylvania Primary Funds

WASHINGTON—Pennsylvania's Republican Senatorial primary held last month will shortly be subjected to critical Congressional scrutiny. If there is any substance to the secret charges made to Washington authorities, the State is in for another sensational campaign expenditure scandal.

In 1926 Jim Reed's famous committee rocked the country with its disclosures of huge slush funds in the Republican Senatorial primary. As a result, William S. Vare was branded the successful "bidder," and ousted from his Senate seat.

The records of the committee showed that the Vare forces spent not less than $1,000,000. Now comes Senator David Aiken Reed, Andy Mellon ally and victor in last month's primary. He is the object of the latest accusations. Officially he reported an outlay of only a few hundred dollars.

But it is being secretly charged that hundreds of thousands were spent in his behalf. One figure submitted privately to the Senate's Campaign Fund Investigating Committee places the sum as high as $400,000.

Governor Pinchot is the source of these accusations. In 1926, as now, he was defeated in seeking the Senatorial nomination. The 1926 probe brought to light that over a quarter of a million had been spent for him.

Charges against Reed were originally made to the President several weeks ago. The investigating committee, at that time, had not been authorized, although the resolution to do so was pending.

The President got in touch with floor leaders, informed them of the charges laid before him, urged them to have a potent investigating committee appointed.

His injunction was followed to the letter. Not only was the committee created, but at the head of it was South Carolina's wily Jimmy Byrnes, liaison man between the Senate and the White House, one of the ablest in either branch of Congress.

Modesty

The home of Oliver Wendell Holmes, retired Justice of the Supreme Court—93 years old and just as delightful as ever—continues to be the Mecca for those jurists and friends privileged to know him.

Justices Brandies, Stone and Cardozo, his particular friends, drop in to see him almost daily. Not long ago Justice Stone was telling his aged colleague of a violinist he had heard at a concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

In glowing language, the younger jurist told how Yehudi Menuhin, a gangling youth of seventeen, had come before the audience, awkward, ill-at-ease, had lifted his bow and at once had held the audience spellbound. "Ah," said Holmes with a sigh, after Stone had finished. "What a triumph! I sometimes think that I would give ten years of my life to be able to play like that."

"Yes," replied Justice Stone, "but some of us would give ten years of our lives to be able to write opinions like yours."

Justice Holmes brightened, showed that even he enjoys praise. Then after a moment's pause, he said:

"My boy," Stone is only 62—"God sees through all this modesty."

Adjournment Cost

Members of Congress, homeward-bound, pay for railroad tickets at the rate of 3.6 cents a mile (slightly less to points south and west). Adding Pullman costs, they pay roughly five or six cents a mile. Uncle Sam pays them fifteen cents a mile.

The biggest hand-out is to the two Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands, who each get $1500 ($2000 prior to the Economy Act) whether they go home or not.

OHIO COUNTY FEARS UNION FIELD STRIKE

National Guard Officer Sent to Hardin-co to Report Trouble

600 LEAVE FIELDS

Marsh Land in Waste During Trouble

COLUMBUS, June 22.—Following reports of threatened violence in the strike of 600 laborers in the onion fields of Hardin-co, the adjutant general today sent Brig. Gen. Ludwig S. Connelly to that vicinity as an observer.

General Connelly was to make a complete report to Adj. Gen. Frank D. Henderson later in the day. He was sent to Hardin-co after Common Pleas Judge Hamilton Hogue, Kenton, telephoned the adjutant general that the strike situation was assuming serious aspects.

SET HOURS, WAGES
Approximately 600 laborers, members of the "National Farm Laborers Union," organized in the Scioto and Hog Creek marshes and struck for an 8-hour day and 35 cents an hour wages.

According to the adjutant general, groups of strikers congregated on the highways and refused to permit owners of the onion fields to drive their cars into the fields. Thus far no violence has been reported, and no request made for troops.

Gov. George White, who is also keeping an eye on the strike situation, said Judge Hogue apparently was alarmed because the Hardin-co sheriff, Wilbur Mitchell, was away and not able to take charge of the preservation of order. Mitchell is in Nebraska to return a murder suspect to Kenton.

However, according to the governor, the statutes give the common pleas court power to intervene in the mobilization of additional county law enforcement strength under such circumstances.

WAS AT TOLEDO

General Connelly is the national guard officer who was in charge of national guard detachments assigned to preserve order in Toledo during the recent strike of employees of the Electric Auto-Lite Co. General Henderson said he had complete confidence in Connelly's ability to handle the Hardin-co situation.

ROSS-CO FACTION FIGHT MAY ASSIST WEILL'S CANDIDACY

A split in Ross-co Republican ranks may help the chances of Harry E. Weill, this city, in being named Republican commissioner from the 11th congressional district, in the August primary.

Mayor Walter Barrett, of Chillicothe, and John P. Phillips, Jr., Chillicothe attorney, are both seeking the nomination for the job at the August primaries. A factional fight has now arisen in that county and Phillips has filed a protest with the board of elections against Barrett's petition.

Possibility that many Republican voters will turn to Weill's candidacy to escape the factional strife is being expressed by a number of observers. With Ross-co normally Republican by a large majority, the candidate who is successful enough to carry this stronghold is usually the district winner.

SALLY TO APPEAR WITHOUT HER FANS

CHICAGO, June 22.—Sally Rand, whose fan dance stirred things up at the World's fair last year, is coming back to a Century of Progress to dance some more—without her fans. She will appear at the Italian village beginning June 30. It was announced, but nobody seemed to know what the blonde Miss Rand would wear instead of her ostrich fans.

PENSION PETITIONS NEARING 600 MARK

576 Have Already Filed With More Expected; First Payment August 1.

The number of Pickaway-co applicants for old age pensions will soon reach 600 according to present indications, T. D. Krinn, administrator of the pension system in the county, said today.

Already 576 persons have filed applications at the county auditor's office and many others are expected to be mailed by aged citizens who were unable to come to Circleville to file their applications.

The first pensions will be paid August 1, according to Mr. Krinn. A definite allotment for Pickaway-co has not been received, although it is expected it will approximate $13,000 for the period from August to January.

WEILER TOLD JOB IS ENDED

Brought Writes Relief Director Saying County is Through With Commission.

F. W. Weiler, who has been relief director for Pickaway-co since the resignation of A. J. Dunkel, said Friday that he had been notified by Major E. O. Braught, of the state relief commission, that his job will be ended June 30.

Braught's communication to Weiler said that the Pickaway-co commissioners had already voted to get along without state and federal aid and that such a communication has been sent the state office.

The auditor's office said Friday that no such vote was recorded there.

In the meantime unemployed were continuing circulation of their petitions urging the commissioners to remain under the jurisdiction of state and federal relief commissioners. The petitions will probably be presented at the commissioners' office Monday.

A long illness of heart trouble proved fatal to Mrs. Barbara Ellen Nickelson, 89, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Essick in Ashville at 10:30 a. m. today.

Native of Walnut-twp., Mrs. Nickelson was born February 2, 1845, the daughter of Morgan and Elizabeth Cloud Hoover. She was the widow of the late Thomas Nickelson.

Besides Mrs. Essick, she is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Ella Hubbard and Mrs. Bessie Shire of Columbus, and two sons, William N. Nickerson of Harrison-twp. and C. W. Nickerson of Ashville.

Held in Son's Death

Joseph Reed, 21, of Peabody, Kas., is jailed at Wichita, charged with murdering his three-month-old son, Bruce, who died of a fractured skull. According to Coroner G. C. Davis and three consulting physicians, a blunt instrument caused the fatal injury. Reed recently denied that the baby was his child.

"Mail Order" Murder

Awaiting grand jury action on police charges of fatally shooting her matrimonial bureau finance, Leona Menser of Coshocton, O., is pictured in her Clarion, Pa. jail cell. The 20-year-old girl who remains cheerful behind the bars by playing her mouth organ, stated she shot John Kelly, 61, her marriage agency lover, after he attempted to strike her during a disagreement over the date set for their wedding.

3 FACE LONG PRISON TERMS

Clark, Friley, Loudon To Be Charged With Armed Robbery, Sheriff Says.

Charges of armed robbery were to be filed this afternoon by Sheriff Charles Radcliff against four persons in connection with five recent Ashville crimes. Three of the men have confessed; the fourth, a negro, is being sought in Columbus.

Those against whom charges will be placed are Glenn "Spiky" Clark, formerly of Ashville, Carroll Loudon and Jess Friley. Clark is held in the Franklin-co jail pending his transfer here while Loudon and Friley are both inmates of the county jail.

Sheriff Radcliff, who spent Thursday in Columbus, said today that Clark, the alleged ring leader, has confessed his part in the series of store robberies climaxed by the abduction and robbery of Frank Morrison, his wife and sister-in-law. Loudon and Friley admitted their part in the activities immediately after their arrest.

The armed robbery charges, prepared by Prosecutor Ray W. Davis, carry 10 to 20 years in prison for persons found guilty. Clark, an ex-convict, is expected to fight the armed robbery charge claiming he remained in another automobile while the robbery was perpetrated. Arrest of the negro is expected momentarily.

WAPAKONETA, June 22.—A series of farm burglaries in Allen, Auglaize, Mercer, Van Wert, Paulding and Putnam counties was believed solved today with the arrest of a father and two sons.

Approximately $500 worth of loot was recovered.

Those held, according to police, are Grant Rose, Sr., and two sons, Grant, Jr., and Henry, who live on a farm near Mansfield, 35 miles northwest of Lima.

Six deputy sheriffs who searched the farm claimed they found four stolen automobile wheels in the bottom of a 30-foot concealed well, four more wheels in the belly of an unused church and nine stolen tires covered with debris in the abandoned Miami and Erie canal.

MERCURY REMAINS ABOVE 90 DEGREES

With no immediate hope for rain, Circleville continued to suffer in sweltering temperatures today.

The mercury had passed the 90 mark at noon today and was headed for much higher temperatures during the late afternoon.

Dr. H. R. Clarke, local weather observer, reported that yesterday's high mark was 93. The mercury hovered around 80 most of last night; never falling below 79, he said.

ALL ASPIRANTS CARRY FIGHTS TO UNDERWOOD

Would-Be Congressmen Believe Incumbent is Man They Must Beat

LAUDS PRESIDENT

Solon Makes Statement Concerning Issues

It isn't necessary to go far behind the scenes to learn that practically every candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative in Congress from the 11th Ohio district is centering his campaign on just one opponent. That is Mel G. Underwood, of New Lexington, who is seeking reelection.

Mr. Underwood is opposed for the nomination in his own party by John F. Mader, Harry E. Welch, Dr. J. M. Lantz, Louis M. Day, and Thomas S. Wright. On the Republican side are Renick W. Dunlap and Tom White.

Several of the candidates have made unqualified statements that they intend to center their campaigns on the New Lexington incumbent. Some have put their thoughts in writing. Mr. Welch said when announcing himself for the office that he understood Mr. Underwood was not going to try to come back; now that he is in Mr. Welch is certain to wage a strong campaign against him.

"OUT TO BEAT UNDERWOOD"

In listing his activities Mr. Wright, a Fairfielder, says: "I am entering this campaign to beat Underwood if I can. I expect to devote the balance of my life to 'Abolish the Merchandising of Our Money.'"

Mr. Underwood, who voted against the successful Economy act which gave Mr. Roosevelt his great power in Congress, released a statement to newspapers in his district this week part of which follows.

He praised the honest, constructive and sincere leadership of President Roosevelt and the Congress in behalf of the average man and woman, reviewed the administration's record and urged the American people to follow the gleam of a "New Deal" and a "New Day."

PRIVILEGE TO CRITICIZE

In opening his statement Mr. Underwood said, "In our country it is the privilege of all to freely criticize; however, criticism should ASK PODERJAY HELD FOR U. S.

"Suspicion of Murder" Charge Placed Against Man Held In Vienna.

VIENNA, June 22.—"Captain" Ivan Poderjay, detained by the Vienna police in connection with the disappearance of Agnes Tufverson, New York lawyer whom he married last December, has been charged with "suspicion of murder," the police disclosed today.

Mme. Suzanne Ferrand, to whom Poderjay had previously been wedded in London, is being held on a charge of having profited in a crime because she was found to be wearing clothing belonging to Miss Tufverson.

Poderjay previously had been accused of bigamy but the Vienna police admitted it would be difficult to effect his extradition to the United States on that charge.

Today the police announced that an American request for the extradition of the Jugo-Slav adventurer, believed to have had affairs with many women, was enroute to Vienna and that it probably would be honored.

Continuing their search of the apartment occupied by Poderjay and Mme. Ferrand the police today found more clothing and jewelry belonging to Miss Tufverson, answering to descriptions furnished here by the New York police.

They also found dozens of love letters written by Poderjay to Mme. Ferrand while he was in New York, describing his affair with Miss Tufverson.

FIVE RESCUED FROM LAKE ERIE WATERS

VERMILION, June 22.—Another thrilling chapter in the history of the coast guard had been written here today with the rescue of five men, marooned on a rocky point two miles out in Lake Erie. Certain coast guardsmen were called out by flares sent up by the five men after their two boats, a 20-foot speedboat and a 35-foot cruiser, became snagged on the reef.

Suicide Pact of Mother, Daughter Finally Closed As Latter Shoots Self

DES MOINES, Ia., June 22.—

With the death of Margaret Bott, 22, from a self-inflicted bullet wound, a mother-daughter suicide pact today was fulfilled.

Together they had sought death a week ago by swimming out into Lake Michigan near their Highland Park (Ill.) home, their bodies trusted together with ropes. The mother, Mrs. Alice King Bott, was drowned, but the daughter was washed ashore to live and grieve.

FOUND OLD PISTOL

Brought here to the home of an uncle, Dr. W. W. Pearson, to forget the tragedy, Miss Bott found an old .38 caliber pistol in a bureau drawer. She shot herself through the chest Wednesday and died late yesterday from hemorrhages and shock.

The girl's attempt to join her mother in death went unannounced until she succumbed to the bullet wound.

Agreeing that suicide together was preferable to separation through the probable death of Margaret on the operating table, mother and daughter made their suicide pact on June 13. Miss Bott had undergone six mastoid operations. Doctors said another was necessary and admitted the girl's chances of surviving were extremely doubtful.

WERE INSEPARABLE

Mother and daughter had been inseparable since the divorce of Mrs. Bott from her husband, Rhea Bott, now of New York, 20 years ago.

Cassius Chandler, 24-Year-Old Orphan, Given Mercy By Jurors.

GREENVILLE, June 22.—Cassius Chandler, 24, of Glen Falls, N. Y., who spent his boyhood in orphan's homes, must spend the remainder of his life in the Ohio penitentiary for the murder of Mrs. Belle Harter, 77-year-old tobacco stripper, a common pleas court jury had decided today.

After deliberating 10 hours, the jury of eight men and four women found Chandler guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy. There was an outburst of applause from the spectators in the court room when the recommendation for mercy was read.

DEMANDED DEATH

Prosecutor Vernon Marshall had demanded the death penalty in his closing argument but after taking 17 ballots the jury disregarded his recommendations. At one time, the jury is reported to have voted 8 to 4 to send the New York youth to the chair.

Chandler and his brother, Erwin, 20, were accused of slaying Mrs. Harter in an attempted robbery at the aged woman's New Madison home. Erwin will be tried on a first degree murder charge next Monday and his brother's fate indicated that he too might escape the chair.

Both of the youths confessed to the slaying of Mrs. Harter but claimed it had not been premeditated. They denied that they had attacked her. The elder brother cried frequently during his trial and broke into tears again when the verdict was read. He had no comment.

Cassius, in recounting the details of his life, said that he had spent his boyhood in various orphan's homes.

BERSERK MILL MAN SHOOT 3, SUICIDES

Former Armco Executive Kills Wife, Wounds Mother-in-Law, Daughter.

MIDDLETOWN, June 22.—Believed to have gone suddenly insane, Sidney Rectaw, 46, a former vice president of the American Rolling Mill Co., early today shot and killed his wife, seriously wounded his mother-in-law and also his 12-year-old daughter and then ended his life.

Two other children of the Rectaw family, James 18 and Daniel, 16, escaped by fleeing to a neighbor's home.

Rectaw's wife, Mrs. Alma Rectaw, 42, was the first victim of her husband who was believed by police to have been a victim of insanity brought on by worry since he severed connection with the American Rolling Mill Co. three months ago.

After slaying his wife, Rectaw shot his mother-in-law, Mrs. Eliza Rathmas, and then wounded his 12-year-old daughter, Shirley. The conditions of both Mrs. Rathmas and Shirley were reported serious. The 12-year-old girl was wounded in the abdomen.

Mrs. Clarence T. Judy and baby son were discharged from the hospital Thursday and returned to their home at Laurelville.

Harold St. Clair Admits Slaying Illinois Man; To Be Returned.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 22.—Captured here after a nationwide search, Harold St. Clair, 30, a former Ohio convict, today agreed to waive extradition to Illinois to face trial as the murderer of Dr. Homer L. Meyers, wealthy dentist of Eldorado.

Arrested as he stepped from a taxicab last night, St. Clair soon admitted his identity and confessed the killing of Dr. Meyer on the latter's farm, police announced.

HAD DEATH GUN

St. Clair was carrying a handgun containing two loaded pistols and some poison powders. One of the weapons contained two discharged cartridges. The former convict admitted that it was this pistol that Dr. Meyers was slain, Detective George Dillman declared.

Dr. Meyers was slain late last Saturday by a man who said he wanted to buy the dentist's farm. His body, shot twice in the back, was found in a clump of bushes on Monday. Attempted kidnapping and robbery were two motives given equal consideration by Eldorado authorities.

St. Clair said that his "traveling companion," Mrs. Evelyn Anderson, knew nothing of the killing. She is being held by Eldorado authorities.

The first parade to be seen on the city's streets in a number of years brought hundreds of persons to the downtown sections.

OHIO CITY HUNTS NEGRO CRIMINAL

MASSILLON, June 22.—Mob feeling ran high today as police pushed their search for a negro who last night criminally attacked a young wife in her home.

The woman, Mrs. Anna Elavsky, 26, reported the man held a razor at her throat and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

Her husband was visiting at a friend's home just a few doors down the street.

Governor Angered by Candidate's Request for "New Deal in Ohio"

IN FIERY ANSWER

West, White Both on F. D. R.'s Bandwagon

MANSFIELD, June 22.—Congressman Charles West and Gov. George White came out of the first round of their widely heralded battle for the Democratic senatorial nomination today bearing no scars. The consensus was that the opening encounter here was close enough to be called a draw.

Both lauded the national recovery program of President Roosevelt to the skies, West pointing with pride to his record in Congress as a New Deal champion and White directing attention to the "prompt, vigorous and sincere" cooperation of his own administration with that of Mr. Roosevelt.

ALLIANCE BLASTED

It remained for William G. Pickrel, Democratic candidate for governor, to furnish the real excitement at the big rally of the Richland-co Jeffersonian club. He did so by emphatically blasting rumors of an alliance between himself and the White senatorial forces.

"There has been no deal made or even discussed between me and any of the senatorial candidates," Pickrel boomed. "Nor will I make any. I hope to be the candidate of all the Democrats, not any particular group."

It was Congressman West's coming-out party as the protégé of the national administration against White and former Gov. A. Vic Donahey, who did not attend the rally.

Nevertheless, the applause that greeted the introduction of West and White appeared to be fairly equal. The crowd that taxed the capacity of the high school auditorium rose to its feet when White walked to the front of the platform, but that is an honor generally accorded a governor.

West fulfilled his promise of a vigorous campaign on behalf of the New Deal. He rose to oratorical heights in recounting steps taken by the president to guide the nation safely out of the economic morass, defended the constitutionality of the N. R. A., and pointed an accusing finger at critics of the huge administration relief expenditures.

CITES EXPENDITURES

"If this country can spend $20,000,000 to carry on destructive warfare," he shouted, "surely it can not be criticized for spending $10,000,000 to insure the peace, safety and happiness of our people."

In defense of the Roosevelt monetary policy, the congressman stated that "Roosevelt has made good the servant of the people instead of permitting them to remain the slave of gold."

"Of course we Democrats and a very large portion of the Republicans glory in our president," said White in opening his address. "His courage and leadership have dispelled the fear that gripped our hearts as a result of the panic and has given us new courage and confidence in the future."

The governor pointed to the Ohio Recovery Act, creation of the state relief commission, the Farm and

NEIGHBOR ADMITS KILLING WATCHMAN

Marshall Turley, 54, Charged With First Degree Columbus Murder.

COLUMBUS, June 22.—After sobbing out a confession that he beat to death his friend, Sam Miller, 75, Columbus night watchman, Marshall Turley, 54, was held today on a first degree murder charge.

Turley, breaking after hours of intensive grilling, said he had attacked Miller because he thought the aged watchman was to blame for Turley's loss of his job, the officers said.

Turley was formerly employed at the Hercules Clothing Company, where Miller worked and where the killing took place early yesterday. Turley was taken into custody when he returned to the plant while officers were conducting an investigation.

After his first cry that "I killed him," Turley became composed and conducted officers through the plant, showing them, the officers said, just how the attack took place. Turley's wife told police that her husband had come home and told her he had just killed "the old man."

TRAILED 7 TO 1

The Eshelman team put on a great rally to defeat the Chows after trailing 7-1 at the end of the fourth inning. The Chows greeted Eddie Callihan like a long lost brother in the first two frames talling three then four runs. The Eshelman were blanked in the first three but started pecking away at Junior Fowler in the fourth and continued it until a five run rally in the seventh clinaxed the attack.

The Chows were scoreless after the second inning getting only one hit the remainder of the way. Callihan had 12 strike-outs including Zeke Zeimer four straight times. "Scaffold" hit only one foul and Sherm Barr, who batted for him in the ninth, also fanned the ozone.

Fausnaugh and Heeter led the winner hitters while Greeno led the losers.

The victory clinches third place in the first half for the Eshelman outfit.

ED. GREER SEEKS KASIES' SCALP

COLUMBUS, June 22.—The Columbus Red Birds and the Kansas City Blues were to wind up their local series here today, with Ed. Greer due to hurl for the home forces and George Hockette slated to mound duty for the visitors.

The Birds won their third straight game of the series from the Blues yesterday, 6 to 5, in a hard-fought 12-inning battle. Nick Cullip, slugging Columbus outfielder, deadlocked the score with a homer, his twelfth of the season, in the ninth inning.

TOLEDO, June 22.—The Brewers and the Mudhens are still at it. The Milwaukee and Toledo clubs of the American Association, whose batsmen established a new association record two days ago when they pounded out a total of 50 hits in one game, continued their slugging activities yesterday in the game which the visitors won from Toledo by the score of 14 to 9.

Milwaukee's batters accounted for 20 hits, and Toledo obtained 13. The two teams met here today in the fourth game of their local series.

Many Sporting Figures to See Pennant Raising

COLUMBUS, June 22.—Pennant raising night, which has been set for Tuesday, June 26th, by the Red Birds, promise to be an All-American affair. A fortnight ago when President George M. Trautman first announced the date when the 1933 American Association pennant would be raised at the Mound-st Stadium, invitations were sent to every baseball official of importance in the country, to every baseball writer and to many notables in the sport world.

About THIS and THAT

By the Second Guesser

JUST HOW TOUGH THE SECOND half of this recreation ball league is going to be is interesting sports fans—Every team claims to be bound for the title; several possibly are with some stumbling blocks in the way.

Only one managerial change has been made, that being Charlie Scott as playing manager of the McClarren Meats. The other team bosses remain the same Roy Norris of the Containers, Cum Robinson of the Meccas, Dwight Lanman of the Purinas, Earl Inler of the Circle City dairies, Lester Harris of the Given Oils, Dory Courtwright and George Crum of the Circleville Oils and Howard "Alice the Goon" Goldsberry of the Eshelman Feeds.

IT IS THE BELIEF OF THE janitor of this column that five and possibly six teams have a chance at the second half title. They are, of course, the strawboard and the Mecca, leading contenders in the first half; then the Eshelman Feeds and the Circleville Oils, strengthened it is believed by the addition of Dutch Wefler; The Circle City dairies may prove tough and so might the McClarren meats, a team leader being needed to make this aggregation tough in the first half. The Given Oils have been playing good ball of late and are capable of giving any one a good argument. The Purinas are badly in need of a pitcher and a couple of outfielders wouldn't hurt the team's chances.

Swimming Pool to Open Sunday

It was announced today that the opening of the new swimming pool in the rear of the Cliftona Theatre will take place Sunday. The pool is being built by Harry Clifton, owner of the Cliftona theatre, and has been under construction during the past two weeks.

Circleville has wanted a swimming pool for a number of years and the one built by Mr. Clifton will be welcomed by the swimming public. It is of concrete construction throughout.

The water line inside the pool will be two feet from the bottom at the west end and the floor graduates to the east end of the pool giving an approximate depth of nine feet from the bottom to the water line at that end. The water will be obtained from a newly-drilled well, which also furnishes water for the air-conditioning system of the theatre. The water inside the pool will be changing continually. As new water enters from the well, the water line will be stabilized by an overflow. The new pool will be drained, cleaned and refilled weekly.

A new bath house and check room has also been constructed across the alley from the pool and a new concrete sidewalk will connect the two. A diving board has been erected at the east end of the pool.

The pool will be known as the Cliftona Swimming pool.

The Roman Colosseum

The Roman Colosseum was made of large blocks of travertine. The inner walls were concrete with and without brick facing. They were strengthened by piers of peperino and travertine at points of great stress. The pediment, columns, and seats were of marble. The Colosseum had no roof.

be constructive, not destructive."

He warned that the old leadership was attempting to mislead the American people, declaring that, "the old critics of a discarded and discredited leadership are attempting to return to power by deception, trickery and fraud." He stated that, "they seek to destroy the 'New Deal' of the Roosevelt administration which has brought better times and renewed hope and courage to the American people." Underwood further asserted that, "the false prophets and evil critics who were the directing brains of the Hoover period, whose blind and stupid policies in the management of our Government were largely responsible for the widespread human misery and suffering in a time of over-abundance and plenty, are endeavoring today to have the people forget the four years of dreadful ruin behind them."

COMPARES ADMINISTRATION

In comparing the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations he pointed out that, "this reputation of leadership is warning the people against Roosevelt progress." In this connection Underwood stated that, "these fault-finding critics are unable to offer anything but destructive criticism and they advance no definite ideas or substitutes for the administration program. No one can deny," he said, "that business, which was stagnant and paralyzed, has now improved; that agriculture, which was prostrate and flat on its back, is slowly reviving; that with millions of men and women going back to work no one can deny that confidence and hope are returning. We are well on the road to recovery."

"The issue involved in the coming campaign," he asserted, "will not be simply the election of a Republican or a Democrat; it will be the choice between the 'Old Deal' and the 'New Deal'; it will be a choice between the still smoking wreckage of the old gang and the great liberal policies of President Roosevelt to recover the old and sacred rights for which the American people have constantly struggled—homes, livelihood and individual security. I believe the people will follow the gleam of the 'New Deal,' the 'New Day' and the Roosevelt program of progress, happiness and prosperity."

"Takes Over" Office

State Highway Patrol stopped 17,351 motor vehicles during May to effect better motor vehicle law observance and highway safety, according to the monthly report submitted today by Colonel Lynn Black, patrol superintendent.

The vehicles stopped included 12,524 passenger cars and 4,827 commercial cars.

Only cases of flagrant violation, in accordance with the policy of the patrol, resulted in arrests. Of 17,444 violations noted—12,176 notices to correct faulty equipment and 5,025 verbal warning—243 or only 1.4 per cent caused arrest.

Last month the patrol received 2,008 information requests, investigated 231 accidents and recovered stolen property valued at $4,090, including motor vehicles valued at $4,000 and other property valued at $90.

Corrections ordered for mechanical defects found upon checking cars follow:

Brakes, 289 passenger cars and 77 commercial cars; lights, 6280 passenger cars and 1096 commercial cars; license plates, 1407 passenger cars and 902 commercial cars; signal devices, 89 passenger cars and 33 commercial cars; miscellaneous corrections, 961 passenger cars and 1042 commercial cars.

In addition, 34 passenger cars and 14 commercial cars were timed for speeding, while 455 commercial cars were checked as to weight and 104 commercial cars were measured for oversize.

In all, the patrol for May covered 132,536 miles by motorcycle, 43,859 miles by automobile and 108 miles afoot, exclusive of 10,256 miles covered in other vehicles.

WHITE

Home Protective committee and the Ohio milk marketing act, legislation sponsored by his administration, as evidence of his active support of the New Deal.

With special emphasis he declared that Ohio was among the first states to swing into action on the C. W. A. program, saying this state established a national record in putting 247,000 unemployed men and women to work in 27 days.

"NEW DEAL IN OHIO"

Then the governor opened fire on a previous speaker, Pickrel, who had asserted "what the people in Ohio want is some of the New Deal in this state of ours." The gubernatorial aspirant urged a reduction in governmental expenditures before the enactment of a permanent taxation program.

"I cut the cost of state government from 86 million dollars to 46 millions," said White, referring to Pickrel's remarks. "Some of our candidates better point their finger to where they can cut it further." The governor made the prediction that "with pressure from depositors and shareholders" the legislature, meeting on June 27 to enact building and loan legislation, "will pass those measures within two or three days after they meet."

Pickrel trotted out the public utilities question which he said will be a major issue in the gubernatorial contest.

"You will either have a candidate who will say he is for the abolition of the present state utilities commission and refuse to re-name a single one of its members, or you will have one ruled by the utilities," he charged, adding that he favored a complete revision of state utilities laws.

On the school problem, he said "the Democrats must stand for a state-collected and state-distributed tax to guarantee an education for every child, and for fair compensation for teachers."

"We pay our liquor store men $1.00 a year," he said, "and pay

our teachers only $500. Sometimes they don't even get that."

DEFENDS LEGISLATURE

Lieut. Gov. Charles Sawyer, also a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, defended Governor White and spoke a favorable word for the state legislature whose record he said is no worse than that of assemblies in neighboring states confronted with as difficult problems.

"In seeking the gubernatorial nomination," Sawyer said, "I propose to campaign in such a way as to leave nothing to apologize for in November. I promise an honest administration to every section of the state."

Select Recipes For Summer Menus From Mrs. Thurn's Best Collections

Dear Friends in Circleville:

It is no use to scold you again about meringues, for I've done it so much that I have used up all my scolding words. But when question after question comes to me, week after week, on lemon meringue pie and how to make a good meringue on any kind of pie, I begin to feel that my scoldings, my good advice and my best recipes are all in vain.

I'm going to give you the meringue instructions once again but please remember that perfect results are only possible with fresh eggs, a regulated oven, and your own exact following of the detailed instructions. If the dish is to be served hot, the meringue must be ready to put on as soon as the dish is ready; if to be served cold, let the dish cool and do not put on the meringue until a short time before using. It does not improve with standing. A slow oven should be used; the usual cause of toughness is too high an oven temperature. If the meringue is cooked too fast it will toughen, wrinkle, shrink and liquify. If cooked too slowly it will do the same.

Meringue

Two egg whites beaten; one fourth cup sugar, sifted; one fourth to one teaspoon flavoring. Be sure the eggs are very cold, the whites must be freshly beaten very stiff. The sugar may be powdered or fine granulated and in either case must be sifted. Have the egg whites stiff before any sugar is added. Beat in the sugar with an egg whisk. Add flavoring and spread at once.

Set in lower part of slow oven (about 300 degrees F.) to brown ten to twelve minutes.

When making a larger meringue using three or four egg whites use a little cream of tartar (one eighth teaspoon to two eggs), for a very festive meringue use three egg whites and six tablespoons of powdered sugar.

I am giving another recipe for plain pastry, once again. The recipe makes a two-crust or covered pie.

Plain Pastry

Two cups flour; one half teaspoon baking powder; one half teaspoon salt; one half cup shortening; five to six tablespoons ice water.

Sift together dry ingredients; add shortening, mix in with a fork or finger tips or pastry blender until crumbly in appearance. Add water, a spoonful at a time, mixing until dry mixture is moistened, just enough to hold it together. Work lightly with hands until smooth. Divide dough in half. Roll out one half on floured board to one eighth inch thick. Fit into pie dish and trim edges even with the pan. Roll out the remaining dough for top crust and fold in half and make a few slits in it near the center of the fold. Put the filling in the lower crust, moisten the edges with water and place the top crust loosely over the filling.

Trim off the edges and press the crust together using the fingers or a fork. Bake in hot oven at 475 degrees F. about ten minutes. Then reduce the heat and bake as directed according to the filling.

Fresh Strawberry Tart

Pastry for a one crust pie, one quart whole fresh strawberries; one cup chopped or sliced strawberries; three fourths cup sugar; one half cup water; one fourth teaspoon salt; one and one half tablespoons cornstarch.

Prepare and bake a pastry shell. Fill with whole strawberries. Mash the chopped berries very fine, heat the sugar water and salt together to boiling. Add chopped berries, stir well and strain. Heat to boiling again. Remove any foam from the top. Mix cornstarch with two tablespoons of cold water, add to the hot mixture stirring constantly. Cook until thick and clear, about ten minutes. Cool, pour over berries in the crust. Cover with a meringue or whipped cream or serve plain.

Lemon Meringue Pie

Pastry for a one crust pie; one cup sugar; three tablespoons cornstarch; two tablespoons flour; one fourth teaspoon salt; grated rind of one lemon; two cups boiling water; three egg yolks; six tablespoons lemon juice; one tablespoon butter; one recipe for meringue.

Bake pastry shell as directed, mix half the sugar with the cornstarch, flour and salt. Add lemon rind, pour on boiling water slowly stirring constantly. Cook in an enamel double boiler continuing to stir until thick and clear. Mix the remaining half of sugar with egg yolks and lemon juice. Add to the first mixture and cook about two minutes longer until thick and smooth. Add butter. Pour into baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue and bake as directed.

Pineapple and Rhubarb Pie

Pastry for one crust pie; two cups finely cut rhubarb; two cups fresh pineapple cubes; one and one third cups sugar; two teaspoons flour.

Make enough pastry that there are eight two-and-one-half inch rounds. Prick each with a fork. Cook the rhubarb, pineapple and sugar together until tender in an enamel saucepan. Pour into a baked pastry shell, sprinkle with flour, arrange the rounds of pastry on top of the pie, bake at 475 degrees F. or hot oven, eight to ten minutes.

ALL-BRAN MADE HIM REGULAR AS CLOCK

Delicious Cereal Corrected His Constipation

We quote from his voluntary and enthusiastic letter: "After reading your advertisement, I decided to use ALL-BRAN. I had been taking pills right along. But now I don't have to take pills."

"I take ALL-BRAN every morning, and am as regular as the clock. It has done me a lot of good."—Stephen Higgins, 51 S. Neil St., South Norwalk, Conn.

Common constipation frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet this condition can be overcome, usually, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Tests show this delicious cereal provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently this clears out the intestinal wastes.

Isn't this safer than taking harmful patent medicines? Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream. Use it also in making fluffy muffins and breads, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ROTARY CLUB-MEN HEAR REV. HICKEY

An enjoyable inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs was held at the Pickaway Country club Thursday evening when members of the London club met with the Circleville club. Over forty attended the meeting.

The program for the meeting was in charge of the London club and President Farquhar introduced as the speaker Rev. W. C. Hickey, who gave an interesting and inspiring talk.

He took his listeners on an interesting vacation trip through life on the ships of "Friendship," "Courtship," "Citizenship" and "Worship." After giving the importance of each ship in the journey through life he closed his talk by saying "When your journey is ended and you have received the benefits of each ship the Master will greet you at the end with the words 'Well Done.'"

Strain, pour the jelly to one inch thickness into an oblong mold. When nearly set, add drained asparagus. Add jelly to cover and when this is set add a layer of sliced egg seasoned with salt and pepper. Cover with liquid jelly, let partly set, then fill with layers of asparagus and egg. Cover all with jelly. Let congeal in the refrigerator. Unmold on a bed of lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

Frozen Deserts Are Deliciously Different

THIS mousse may be frozen in the automatic refrigerator or packed in a mold set in salt and ice for four hours. To make it use, one quart of cream; one and one half cups light brown sugar; two tablespoons gelatine; one cup peanut brittle chopped coarsely; one fourth teaspoon salt; three tablespoons hot water; two tablespoons cold water; one teaspoon vanilla.

Whip the cream and fold the sugar into it. Then add the gelatine which has been soaked in the cold water, then dissolved in the hot water. Let cool, then add chopped candy, salt and flavoring. If frozen in the refrigerator, pack into the pan and let stand until firm but not too hard. Serve in tall parfait glasses with chopped peanuts on top.

Frozen Cherry Custard

One quart cherries seeded; one cup sugar; three cups milk; one fourth cup cornstarch; three quarters cup sugar additional; two well beaten eggs. Place the cherries in an enameled saucepan with the one cup of sugar. Cook in their own juice and sugar until soft. Meanwhile, heat the milk with the cornstarch, bring to boiling and cook slowly for five minutes. Then add the rest of the sugar, the eggs and the prepared cherries. Mix thoroughly, let chill and freeze as you would freeze ice cream.

This makes a delicious dessert when frozen in flat pans in the automatic refrigerator. After the mixture is firm about one inch from the edge of the pan, beat well and return to the pan to freeze until firm. Then slice and serve on angel cake with cooked cherries as a sauce.

Miss Marie Hamilton, W. High st., was among the guests at a breakfast given by Mrs. Gale Roush, Friday morning at her home in Chillicothe.

Deposit Insurance
THAT the skepticism voiced in some sources when the federal deposit insurance act was before congress has proved so far unjustified is a source of gratification. The perfect record that stands to the credit of the law should serve to strengthen public confidence in it.

Figures given out by Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, reveal that so far this year no insured bank in the United States has failed. Two small state institutions, one in Pennsylvania and the other in Illinois, not affiliated with the federal reserve system but which carry deposit insurance, are in difficulties. It has not been determined if they can weather their troubles. Their deposits total $1,341,000, but if these should eventually become a claim against the insurance corporation they would represent less than one-half of one per cent of the corporation's capital, according to Mr. Crowley.

Nearly 14,000 banks are carrying deposit insurance, their insured accounts totaling in number almost 56,000,000 and amounting in value to more than $15,700,000,000.

The record of the insurance law to date, Mr. Crowley points out, is in striking contrast with that of former years. In the first months of the 10 years from 1922 to 1932 a total of 3,745 banks failed, deposits of $1,296,101,000 being involved.

The situation revealed must be regarded as highly encouraging. At the same time, a test over a considerable period of time will be needed to establish the value of the insurance plan. Thus far, the latter appears to be proving its worth.

Funny man! It takes one year to learn to talk and 50 years to learn to keep still.

A Belated Honor
WE don't think anyone will protest the action of congress in honoring Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson for his courage in sinking the Merrimac during the war with Spain. but it seems a little strange that 36 years should have been permitted to elapse before this action was taken.

The captain was elevated to the rank of a rear admiral with retired pay on the thirty-sixth anniversary of his exploit, which was carried out in an effort to blockade the Spanish fleet. The house completed congressional action by passing unanimously a senate bill.

It was the first official recognition of his act of heroism since Captain Hobson retired from the navy 30 years ago because of his health. The United States is noted for its slowness in honoring its heroes, such action frequently coming only after the death of the intended recipients.

Captain Hobson fortunately is very much alive and capable of enjoying that part of the honor residing in the $4,500 annual salary that the rank of rear admiral carries.

The country, we believe, will view the honor as having been worthily bestowed and will hope that the new rear admiral will have many years in which to enjoy it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR INVITED

'THE LONE WOLF' ON

by LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

SYNOPSIS
Michael Lanyard—formerly known as the "Lone Wolf," an underworld celebrity, but now a respected antique dealer—sails for America on the S.S. "Navarre." Aboard ship, he meets Detective Crane, of New York, who hunted the "Lone Wolf" years ago. They talk of Lanyard's reformation preceding his marriage, and the tragic death of his wife and children while he was at war. Later, Lanyard sees a young man dart into the passageway leading to his (Michael's) cabin. He is startled and perplexed by the youth's resemblance to himself. Mrs. Fay Crozier, one of Lanyard's wealthy patrons, and her lovely daughter Fenne are also on board. Fenne calls Lanyard's attention to the handsome young man staring at him. It is the youth Lanyard is puzzled about; his name is Maurice Parry. Checking over the passenger list, Lanyard wonders why Maurice had made a hasty departure from states to gaze on a deck when his own cabin is on C Deck. That night, Lanyard goes in search of the youth and finds him dancing with Fenne. Fay Crozier confides in Lanyard that she bought the Habsburg emeralds but kept it secret to avoid paying duty. Ray shows Lanyard the jewels, which are immediately branded as fake. He promises to try and retrieve the genuine gems, provided she turns them over to the purser.

CHAPTER VI
On leaving Mrs. Innes Crozier, Lanyard made for the third time since dinner a tour of the first-cabin quarters, marching a slow round with the heavy step, the heavier mien, the introspective eye and the long, pale, and somewhat wan face of a man who has arrived at the stage where his time has ceased to have a value.

The night was still young, at least for those whose spirit was youthful; the band in the ballroom had still two good hours in which to go on grinding; but Fenne Crozier and her marked prey were no more among the dancers, and Lanyard had to mope about for some time longer before he found the two parked in the shadow of a life-boat.

Neither, as far as he could see, had any heed to spare from each other as he stumped by, to go on watch below and—earnestly hope that what Fenne had started in jest wasn't going to work up into any serious attachment. Fenne, to be sure, was probably as well able to look out for herself as any modern young thing; but that wretch of a boy, if he harbored within him any qualities in keeping with his outward likeness to that long-lost youth, the Lone Wolf, was capable of taking love like a drug and suffering agonies if it ever came to the pass that he would be compelled to undergo a cure.

A quarter of an hour later Lanyard caught yet another glimpse of the pair, but this time from a distance, as they returned to the ballroom; after which the man made off to his room, and Lanyard, in the public places of the Navarre till shortly before midnight, when he turned up in the smoking-room.

Crane was still there, but had come out of his corner to watch the play at one of the two tables where contract at a quarter of a point was the game and to mouse about for some cardmanship was the rule.

One of the players, and not the least skillful if never the most judicious, was young M. Parry, flying every evidence of a successful evening, including a disposition to push his luck to the limit. He played his cards with nice judgment even when on the defensive, that final test of a bridge's ability, but inclined to be a bit too optimistic.

opening bid, you said simply, 'By'; while, if he was to gather that you had great strength and were holding your bid back till you found out what the opposition had to declare in other words that he was to keep the auction open even at cost of making a thin third-hand bid, in order that the hand might not be passed out before the call came around to you again, you said, as you did just now, 'nubbid.' That is your system, isn't it? Forgive me, but when I play for high stakes I know how to read your little ways."

"Do you know what you are accusing me of?" Mr. Clay snarled. "Perfectly. Prearranged signaling is, to put it bluntly, cheating. Without rising Lanyard caught Clay's right wrist as the New Englander offered to jump up in a fury, and with an ease that his victim manifestly found surprising forced him to resume his seat or risk a broken arm.

"Sit down," snapped Lanyard, "and admit you work the steamers for a living with your confederate here—and call off the losses of this green young person, or you'll find yourself posted tomorrow morning as transatlantic card-sharps."

"I don't know how to thank you, sir," the young man said, turning to Lanyard as they left after companionway on the C Deck landing. "I don't really. You've been most awfully decent and all that. It was precious, the way you put it over those blacklegs. I don't mind telling you I would have felt the loss of that thousand."

"So one fancied." "I mean to say—I really don't know how to thank you." "There is a way," Lanyard told him in an odd key, "if you care to ask me into your stateroom for two minutes, M. Parry."

The young man stood darkly at gaze for an instant; but the countenance of the older, for all of its urbanity, was unreadable. "Surely, sir. Only too delighted!" M. Parry made a nervously abrupt turn and led down the passageway to Stateroom 67, switched the lights, stood back to permit Lanyard to precede him and, following in and shutting the door, faced him with dilated eyes in a face of odd excitement.

"Well, sir?" he asked with some hesitation—then remembered his manners. "I'm sorry! Won't you sit down?" "Thank you."

Lanyard took the one easy chair in the cramped room, but M. Parry remained on his feet. "You," he said in a stammer, "you were going to tell me how to thank you?"

"It's quite simple," Lanyard replied. "Let me have the Habsburg emeralds to restore to Mrs. Innes Crozier and we will say no more about the business."

Maurice Parry put out a hand toward the berth as if groping for support, and all at once sat down on its edge. "Sorry, sir! But I don't think I quite follow you."

"I am sure you do, monsieur." "I mean—I don't understand how I mean, what—"

"How I found you out so quickly, you were going to say? Don't forget I observed you up in the starboard passageway of A Deck, where you had no business to be, and leaving Suite 39 in a fashion unbecoming a man who had not to fear observation, just before dinner. Later in the evening Mme. Crozier discovered her loss and we are old friends—did me the honor to consult me. I am too well versed in thieves' ways, monsieur—"

"So," the young man interrupted in a flash of reviving spirit, "so they say." (To Be Continued)

Young Children Should Not Sleep With Adults

Health of Youngsters, Who Haven't Germ Resistance of Grownups, May Suffer

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
United States senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

"YOUR OPINION has considerable weight in this family; it could solve my problem, I think. Grandmother insists on my little boy sleeping with her. I have permitted it, but the child is thin and nervous. I have always heard that it was very bad for a child to sleep with an older person. Please write in your column what you think about the matter."

Dr. Copeland

It is sometimes difficult to convince a well-meaning grandparent that sleeping with a young child is detrimental to the health of the youngster. I do not mean to be unkind, but this is a bad thing. It is probable that many young children contract colds, coughs and other more serious infections from this unhygienic practice.

Dangers of Tuberculosis
Even cases of tuberculosis in children can be traced to this unwise habit. I know many of my readers will be surprised to learn this, but it is true. The elderly person who appears to be healthy and free of disease may be harboring the germs of tuberculosis. This is especially true in those cases which may have been diagnosed as chronic bronchitis. It is true that the persistent cough is bronchial in origin but unfortunately, the underlying cause is often tuberculosis.

Lack Resistance of Adults
The adult builds up a resistance to the germs of tuberculosis. But the young child is extremely susceptible to this serious infection and is not able to throw it off as does the older individual.

Every young child should sleep in a bed alone and, if the home space permits, in a room by himself. Of course, this desirable arrangement is not always possible, but in any event the children should have their room or rooms apart from the grown-ups. Then they will avoid the dangers of intimate contact and, too, they will not be disturbed by the parents' later bed hour.

Many a child expects mother to lie down beside him or to hold his hand until going to sleep. This is a habit that can be avoided and must be discouraged at the very start. Teach the child that when he is ready for bed he should get in and lie down without coaxing or fussing.

Do not be misled by the old-fashioned idea that night air is dangerous for children. Keep the windows open and the room cool, although not too cold. Make sure the child has plenty of blankets during cold weather and is well protected against chill and drafts.

Guard your child against all unnecessary dangers of exposure to germs and disease. Bear in mind that during the rapid stage of growth and development, the child is extremely susceptible to conditions which the adult can overcome. Undue exposure to germs leads to repeated infections, as well as retarded growth and development of the child.

Answers to Health Queries

Mary. Q.—My father who is 70 years of age has had asthma for many years. I have recently learned that this disturbance is often aggravated by animal fur and similar substances. Is this theory true?
A.—Yes, some individuals are particularly sensitive to such substances. There are a number of tests which may be made to determine the underlying cause. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Worried. Q.—I have been subject to migraine headaches for over fifteen years without much relief. What treatment do you suggest in such cases?
A.—Try to locate the underlying source of the trouble by having a complete physical examination and urinalysis, as the first step. In the meantime be careful of your diet and elimination. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Worried. Q.—Is whooping cough a very serious disease?
A.—If proper care is taken, this is not a serious disease. It usually lasts two weeks but the child should be kept at home for one week after "whoop" has disappeared. (Copyright, 1934, K. F. S., Inc.)

AT THE CLIFTONA

A bunch of wild animals; exciting horse races; a pitched battle between an enraged tiger and a man; and a raging fire which burns down an entire tourist camp are several of the most potent elements that bring a thrilling, entertaining climax to the Paramount picture, "She Made Her Bed," coming on Saturday to the Cliftona Theatre.

The leading players are Richard Arlen, Sally Eilers, Robert Armstrong and Roscoe Ates. With Grace Bradley, Charley Grapewin and Arlen's eight-months-old son, Richard Ralston, completing the supporting players.

This, incidentally, marks the first screen appearance of the Arlen baby. He was given the role originally intended for Baby LeRoy, but that youngster had grown so from the time he was cast until the picture went into production, that he could not be used.

AT THE GRAND

Thrills topped by more thrills for the next twelve weeks are promised by manager Baughman of the Grand theatre, with the announcement that the first chapter of Universal's latest serial thriller, "The Vanishing Shadow," will open Friday.

"The Vanishing Shadow" deals with a young newspaperman who fights against great odds to keep control of his powerful afternoon paper. A gang of money-mad, power-crazed politicians strive to gain possession of the paper which is about to expose their crooked political deals.

The leading role is played by Onslow Stevens, supported by Ada Ince in the principal feminine part. She plays the role of the daughter of Ward Barnett, leader of the political gang, impersonated by Walter Miller, responsible for the downfall of Stevens' father.

Nest in Thorns for Safety

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senate Committee to Probe Pennsylvania Primary Funds

WASHINGTON—Pennsylvania's Republican Senatorial primary held last month will shortly be subjected to critical Congressional scrutiny.

In 1926 Jim Reed's famous committee rocked the country with its disclosures of huge slush funds in the Republican Senatorial primary. As a result, William S. Vare was branded the successful "bidder," and ousted from his Senate seat.

The records of the committee showed that the Vare forces spent not less than $1,000,000.

Now comes Senator David Aiken Reed, Andy Mellon ally and victor in last month's primary. He is the object of the latest accusations. Officially he reported an outlay of only a few hundred dollars.

But it is being secretly charged that hundreds of thousands were spent in his behalf. One figure submitted privately to the Senate's Campaign Fund Investigating Committee places the sum as high as $400,000.

Governor Pinchot is the source of these accusations. In 1926, as now, he was defeated in seeking the Senatorial nomination. The 1926 probe brought to light that over a quarter of a million had been spent for him.

Charges against Reed were originally made to the President several weeks ago. The investigating committee, at that time, had not been authorized, although the resolution to do so was pending.

The President got in touch with floor leaders, informed them of the charges laid before him, urged them to have a potent investigating committee appointed.

His injunction was followed to the letter. Not only was the committee created, but at the head of it was South Carolina's wily Jimmy Byrnes, liaison man between the Senate and the White House, one of the ablest in either branch of Congress.

Modesty

The home of Oliver Wendell Holmes, retired Justice of the Supreme Court—93 years old and just as delightful as ever—continues to be the Mecca for those jurists and friends privileged to know him.

Justices Brandies, Stone and Cardozo, his particular friends, drop in to see him almost daily. Not long ago Justice Stone was telling his aged colleague of a violinist he had heard at a concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

In glowing language, the younger jurist told how Yehudi Menuhin, a gangling youth of seventeen, had come before the audience, awkward, ill-at-ease, had lifted his bow and at once had held the audience spellbound.

"Ah," said Holmes with a sigh, after Stone had finished. "What a triumph! I sometimes think that I would give ten years of my life to be able to play like that."

"Yes," replied Justice Stone, "but some of us would give ten years of our lives to be able to write opinions like yours."

Justice Holmes brightened, showed that even he enjoys praise. Then after a moment's pause, he said:

"My boy,"—Stone is only 62—"God sees through all this modesty."

Adjournment Cost

Members of Congress, homeward-bound, pay for railroad tickets at the rate of 3.6 cents a mile (slightly less to points south and west). Adding Pullman costs, they pay roughly five or six cents a mile. Uncle Sam pays them fifteen cents a mile.

The biggest hand-out is to the two Resident Commissioners from the Philippine Islands, who each get $1500 ($2000 prior to the Economy Act) whether they go home or not.

OHIO COUNTY FEARS UNION FIELD STRIKE

National Guard Officer Sent to Hardin-co to Report Trouble

600 LEAVE FIELDS Marsh Land in Waste During Trouble

COLUMBUS, June 22.—Following reports of threatened violence in the strike of 600 laborers in the onion fields of Hardin-co, the adjutant general today sent Brig. Gen. Ludwig S. Connelly to that vicinity as an observer.

General Connelly was to make a complete report to Adj. Gen. Frank D. Henderson later in the day. He was sent to Hardin-co after Common Pleas Judge Hamilton Hogue, Kenton, telephoned the adjutant general that the strike situation was assuming serious aspects.

Approximately 600 laborers, members of the "National Farm Laborers Union," organized in the Scioto and Hog Creek marshes and struck for an 8-hour day and 35 cents an hour wages.

According to the adjutant general, groups of strikers congregated on the highways and refused to permit owners of the onion fields to drive their cars into the fields. Thus far no violence has been reported, and no request made for troops.

Gov. George White, who is also keeping an eye on the strike situation, said Judge Hogue apparently was alarmed because the Hardin-co sheriff, Wilbur Mitchell, was away and not able to take charge of the preservation of order. Mitchell is in Nebraska to return a "murder" suspect to Kenton.

However, according to the adjutant general, the statutes give the common pleas court power to intervene in the mobilization of additional county law enforcement strength under such circumstances.

General Connelly is the national guard officer who was in charge of national guard detachments assigned to preserve order in Toledo during the recent strike of employees of the Electric Auto-Lite Co. General Henderson said he had complete confidence in Connelly's ability to handle the Hardin-co situation.

ROSS-CO FACTION FIGHT MAY ASSIST WEILL'S CANDIDACY

A split in Ross-co Republican ranks may help the chances of Harry E. Weill, this city, in being named Republican committeeman from the 11th congressional district, it was believed today.

Mayor Walter Barrett, of Chillicothe, and John P. Phillips, Jr., Chillicothe attorney, are both seeking the nomination for the job at the August primaries. A factional fight has now arisen in that county and Phillips has filed a protest with the board of elections against Barrett's petition.

Possibility that many Republican voters will turn to Weill's candidacy to escape the factional strife is being expressed by a number of observers. With Ross-co normally Republican by a large majority, the candidate who is successful enough to carry this stronghold is usually the district winner.

PENSION PETITIONS NEARING 600 MARK

576 Have Already Filed With More Expected; First Payment August 1.

The number of Pickaway-co applicants for old age pensions will soon reach 600 according to present indications, T. D. Krinn, administrator of the pension system in the county, said today.

Already 576 persons have filed applications at the county auditor's office and many others are expected to be mailed by aged citizens who were unable to come to Circleville to file their applications.

The first pensions will be paid August 1, according to Mr. Krinn. A definite allotment for Pickaway-co has not been received, although it is expected it will approximate $13,000 for the period from August to January.

WEILER TOLD JOB IS ENDED

Brought Writes Relief Director Saying County is Through With Commission.

E. W. Weiler, who has been relief director for Pickaway-co since the resignation of A. J. Dunkel, said Friday that he had been notified by Major E. O. Braught, of the state relief commission, that his job will be ended June 30.

Brought's communication to Weiler said that the Pickaway-co commissioners had already voted to get along without state and federal aid and that such a communication has been sent the state office.

The auditor's office said Friday that no such vote was recorded there.

In the meantime unemployed were continuing circulation of their petitions urging the commissioners to remain under the jurisdiction of state and federal relief commissioners. The petitions will probably be presented at the commissioners' office Monday.

3 FACE LONG PRISON TERMS

Clark, Friley, Loudon To Be Charged With Armed Robbery, Sheriff Says.

Charges of armed robbery were to be filed this afternoon by Sheriff Charles Radcliff against five persons in connection with five recent Ashville crimes. Three of the men have confessed; the fourth a negro, is being sought in Columbus.

Those against whom charges will be placed are Glenn "Spiky" Clark, formerly of Ashville, Carroll Loudon and Jess Friley. Clark is held in the Franklin-co jail pending his transfer here while Loudon and Friley are both inmates of the county jail.

Sheriff Radcliff, who spent Thursday in Columbus, said today that Clark, the alleged ring leader, has confessed his part in the series of store robberies climaxed by the abduction and robbery of Frank Morrison, his wife and sister-in-law. Loudon and Friley admitted their part in the activities immediately after their arrest.

The armed robbery charges, prepared by Prosecutor Ray W. Davis, carry 10 to 20 years in prison for persons found guilty. Clark, an ex-convict, is expected to fight the armed robbery charge claiming he remained in another automobile while the robbery was perpetrated.

Arrest of the negro is expected momentarily.

WAPAKONETA, June 22.—A series of farm burglaries in Allen, Auglaize, Mercer, Van Wert, Paulding and Putnam counties was believed solved today with the arrest of a father and two sons.

Approximately $500 worth of loot was recovered.

Those held, according to police, are Grant Rose, Sr., and two sons, Grant, Jr., and Henry, who live on a farm near Mandale, 35 miles northwest of Lima.

Six deputy sheriffs who searched the farm claimed they found four stolen automobile wheels in the bottom of a 30-foot concealed well, four more wheels in the bell of an unused church and nine stolen tires covered with debris in the abandoned Miami and Erie canal.

LAUDS PRESIDENT

Solon Makes Statement Concerning Issues

It isn't necessary to go far behind the scenes to learn that practically every candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative in Congress from the 11th Ohio district is centering his campaign on just one opponent. That is Mel G. Underwood, of New Lexington, who is seeking reelection.

Several of the candidates have made unqualified statements that they intend to center their campaigns on the New Lexington incumbent. Some have put their thoughts in writing. Mr. Welch said when announcing himself for the office that he understood Mr. Underwood was not going to try to come back; now that he is in Mr. Welch is certain to wage a strong campaign against him.

Mr. Underwood, who voted against the successful Economy bill which gave Mr. Underwood his great power in Congress, released a statement to newspapers in his district this week part of which follows.

He praised the honest, constructive and sincere leadership of President Roosevelt and the Congress in behalf of the average man and woman, reviewed the administration's record and urged the American people to follow the plans of a "New Deal" and a "New Day."

PRIVILEGE TO CRITICIZE In opening his statement Mr. Underwood said, "In our country it is the privilege of all to freely criticize; however, criticism should (Continued on Page Two)

"Suspicion of Murder" Charge Placed Against Man Held In Vienna.

VIENNA, June 22.—"Captain" Ivan Poderjay, detained by the Vienna police in connection with the disappearance of Agnes Tufterson, New York lawyer whom he married last December, has been charged with "suspicion of murder," the police disclosed today.

Mme. Suzanne Ferrand, to whom Poderjay had previously been wedded in London, is being held on a charge of having profited in a crime because she was found to be wearing clothing belonging to Miss Tufterson.

Poderjay previously had been accused of bigamy but the Vienna police admitted it would be difficult to effect his extradition to the United States on that charge.

Today the police announced that an American request for the extradition of the Jugo-Slav adventurer, believed to have had affairs with many women, was enroute to Vienna and that it probably would be honored.

Continuing their search of the apartment occupied by Poderjay and Mme. Ferrand, the police today found more clothing and jewelry belonging to Miss Tufterson, answering to descriptions cabled here by the New York police.

They also found dozens of love letters written by Poderjay to Mme. Ferrand while he was in New York, describing his affair with Miss Tufterson.

FIVE RESCUED FROM LAKE ERIE WATERS

VERMILION, June 22.—Another thrilling chapter in the history of the coast guard had been written here today with the rescue of five men, marooned on a rocky point two miles out in Lake Erie.

Lorain coast fishermen were called out by three sail up by the five men after their two boats, a 20-foot speedboat and a 35-foot cruiser, became jagged on the reef.

After slaying his wife, Rectanus shot his mother-in-law, Mrs. Eliza Rathmas, and then wounded his 12-year-old daughter, Shirley. The conditions of both Mrs. Rathmas and Shirley were reported serious. The 12-year-old girl was wounded in the abdomen.

Mrs. Clarence T. Judy and baby son were discharged from the hospital Thursday and returned to their home at Laurelville.

WHITE AND PICKREL IN MANSFIELD CLASH

Suicide Pact of Mother, Daughter Finally Closed As Latter Shoots Self

Governor Angered by Candidate's Request for "New Deal in Ohio" IN FIERY ANSWER

West, White Both on F. D. R.'s Bandwagon

MANSFIELD, June 22.—Congressman Charles West and Gov. George White came out of the first round of their widely heralded battle for the Democratic senatorial nomination today bearing no scars. The consensus was that the opening encounter here was close enough to be called a draw.

Both lauded the national recovery program of President Roosevelt to the skies, West pointing with pride to his record in Congress as a New Deal champion and White directing attention to the "prompt, vigorous and sincere" cooperation of his own administration with that of Mr. Roosevelt.

ALLIANCE BLASTED It remained for William G. Pickrel, Democratic candidate for governor, to furnish the real excitement at the big rally of the Richmond-co Jeffersonian club. He did so by emphatically blasting rumors of an alliance between himself and the White senatorial forces.

"There has been no deal made or even discussed between me and any of the senatorial candidates," Pickrel boomed. "Nor will I make any. 'I hope to be the candidate of all the Democrats, not any particular group.'"

It was Congressman West's coming-out party as the protégé of the national administration against White and former Gov. A. V. Donaher, who did not attend the rally.

Nevertheless, the applause that greeted the production of West and White appeared to be equal. The crowd that had been capacity of the high school auditorium rose to its feet and walked to the front of the platform, but that is an honor generally accorded a governor.

West fulfilled his promise of a vigorous campaign on behalf of the New Deal. He rose to occasional heights in recounting steps taken by the president to guide the nation safely out of the economic morass, defended the constitutionality of the N. R. A. and pointed an accusing finger at critics of the huge administration relief expenditures.

CITES EXPENDITURES "If this country can spend $20,000,000 to carry on destructive warfare," he shouted, "surely it can not be criticized for spending $10,000,000 to insure the peace, safety and happiness of our people."

In defense of the Roosevelt monetary policy, the congressman stated that "Roosevelt has made good the servant of the people instead of permitting them to remain the slaves of gold."

"Of course we Democrats and a very large portion of the Republican glory in our president," said White in opening his address. "His courage and leadership have dispelled the fear that gripped our hearts as a result of the panic and has given us new courage and confidence in the future."

The governor pointed to the Ohio Recovery Act, creation of the state relief commission, the Farm and (Continued on Page Two)

The first parade to be seen on the city's street in a number of years brought hundreds of persons to the downtown sections.

OHIO CITY HUNTS NEGRO CRIMINAL

MASSILLON, June 22.—Mob feeling ran high here today as police pushed their search for a negro who last night criminally attacked a young wife in her home.

The woman, Mrs. Anna Elavsky, 26, reported the man held a razor at her throat and threatened to kill her if she made an outcry.

Her husband was visiting at a friend's home just a few doors down the street.

Eds Win Third Place; New Schedule Is Drawn

Container Corporation, first champions of the softball league, will meet the Purina Chows in the first game of the second half of the season. Drawings for the second half of the season were made at a meeting of managers Thursday afternoon at the Eshelman-Purina restaurant, which finished 10-7 in the first half.

The remainder of the week's schedule finds: Tuesday, McClarren Meats vs. Eshelman; Wednesday, Mecca restaurant vs. Eshelman; Thursday, Eshelman vs. Eshelman; Friday, Eshelman vs. Eshelman; Saturday, Eshelman vs. Eshelman.

SERIES TO FOLLOW
The second half will consist of the same number of games as the first, each team playing all others once, making the league last seven weeks. After this half comes an elimination series, then the championship play-off between the winners of first and second halves and a final elimination.

C. C. of A. drew No. 1 in the schedule, Purina No. 2, McClarren No. 3, Circleville Oils No. 4, Eshelman No. 5, Circle City No. 6, Eshelman No. 7, and Eshelman No. 8.

Another meeting of the managers has been set for Monday at the Container Corporation-Purina restaurant. This meeting will be an important one and must be attended by all managers. Each manager is to bring his players' names to the meeting, and if he is a player to put on permanent file. Eligibility rules will be strictly enforced during the second half.

A deadline for trading or releasing players from one team to another is also to be set by the managers at this meeting.

Baer Clan Holds Victory Reunion

leaving players from one team to another is also to be set by the managers at this meeting.

TRAILED 7 TO 1

The Eshelman team put on a great rally to defeat the Chows after trailing 7-1 at the end of the fourth inning. The Chows greeted Eddie Callahan like a long lost brother in the first two frames, tallying three then four runs. The Eshelman were blanked in the first three but started pecking away at Junior Fowler in the fourth and continued it until a five run rally in the seventh clinaxed the attack.

The Chows were scoreless after the second inning getting only one hit the remainder of the way. Callahan had 12 strike-outs including Zeke Zeimer four straight times. "Scaffold" hit only one foul and Sherm Barr, who batted for him in the ninth, also fanned the ozone.

Fausnaugh and Heeter led the winner hitters while Greeno led for the losers.

The victory clinches third place in the first half for the Eshelman outfit.

ED. GREER SEEKS KASIES' SCALP

COLUMBUS, June 22.—The Columbus Red Birds and the Kansas City Blues were to wind up their local series here today, with Ed Greer due to hurl for the home forces and George Hockette slated to mound duty for the visitors.

The Birds won their third straight game of the series from the Blues yesterday, 6 to 5, in a hard-fought 12-inning battle. Nic Cullop, slugging Columbus outfielder, deadlocked the score with a home run in the fourth game of the season, in the ninth inning.

TOLEDO, June 22.—The Brewers and the Mudhens are still at it. The Milwaukee and Toledo clubs of the American Association, whose batsmen established a new association record two days ago when they pounded out a total of 50 hits in one game, continued their slugging activities yesterday in the game which the visitors won from Toledo by the score of 14 to 9.

Milwaukee's batters accounted for 20 hits, and Toledo obtained 13. The two teams met here again today in the fourth game of their local series.

Many Sporting Figures to See Pennant Raising

COLUMBUS, June 22.—Pennant raising night, which has been set for Tuesday, June 26th, by the Red Birds, promise to be an All-American affair. A fortnight ago when President George M. Trautman first announced the date when the 1933 American Association pennant would be raised at the Mount-at Stadium, invitations were sent to every baseball official of importance in the country, to every baseball writer and to many notables in the sport world.

Early response include many outstanding figures not only in baseball but other athletic fields as well. Among the more familiar are Judge W. C. Bramham, President of the National Baseball Association, Thomas J. Hickey, President of the American Association, Mike

About THIS and THAT

By the Second Guesser

JUST HOW TOUGH THE SECOND half of this recreation ball league is going to be is interesting sports fans—Every team claims to be bound for the title; several possibly are with some stumbling blocks in the way.

Only one managerial change has been made, that being Charlie Scott as playing manager of the McClarren Meats. The other team bosses remain the same Roy Norris of the Containers, Cum Robinson of the Meccas, Dwight Lammann of the Purinas, Earl Inler of the Circle City dairies, Lester Harris of the Given Oils, Dorthy Courtwright and George Crum of the Circleville Oils and Howard "Alice the Queen" Goldsberry of the Eshelman Feeds.

IT IS THE BELIEF OF THE janitor of this coliseum that five and possibly six teams have a chance at the second half title. They are, of course, the strawboard and the Mecca, leading contenders in the first half; then the Eshelman Feeds and the Circleville Oils, strengthened it is believed by the addition of Dutch Weller; The Circle City dairies may prove tough and so might the McClarren meats a team leader being needed to make this aggregation tough in the first half. The Given Oils have been playing good ball of late and are capable of giving any one a good argument. The Purinas are badly in need of a pitcher and a couple of outfielders would not hurt the team's chances.

Swimming Pool to Open Sunday

It was announced today that the opening of the new swimming pool in the rear of the Cliftona Theatre will take place Sunday. The pool is being built by Harry Clifton, owner of the Cliftona theatre, and has been under construction during the past two weeks.

Circleville has wanted a swimming pool for a number of years and the one built by Mr. Clifton will be welcomed by the swimming public. It is of concrete construction throughout.

The water line inside the pool will be two feet from the bottom at the west end and the floor graduates to the east end of the pool giving an approximate depth of nine feet from the bottom to the water line at that end. The water will be obtained from a newly-drilled well, which also furnishes water for the air-conditioning system of the theatre. The water inside the pool will be changing continually. As new water enters from the well, the water line will be stabilized by an overflow. The new pool will be drained, cleaned and refilled weekly.

A new bath house and check room has also been constructed across the alley from the pool and a new concrete sidewalk will connect the two. A diving board has been erected at the east end of the pool.

The pool will be known as the Cliftona Swimming pool.

The Roman Colosseum

The Roman Colosseum was made of large blocks of travertine. The inner walls were concrete with and without brick facing. They were strengthened by piers of peperino and travertine at points of greatest pressure. The pediment, colonnades, and seats were of marble. The Colosseum had no roof.

be constructive, not destructive." He warned that the old leadership was attempting to mislead the American people, declaring that, "the old critics of a discarded and discredited leadership are attempting to return to power by deception, trickery and fraud." He stated that, "they seek to destroy the 'New Deal' of the Roosevelt administration which has brought better times and renewed hope and courage to the American people." Underwood further asserted that, "the false prophets and evil critics who were the directing brains of the Hoover period, whose blind and stupid policies in the management of our Government were largely responsible for the widespread human misery and suffering in a time of over-abundance and plenty, are endeavoring today to have the people forget the four years of dreadful ruin behind them."

COMPARES ADMINISTRATION

In comparing the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations he pointed out that, "this repudiated leadership is warning the people against Roosevelt progress." In this connection Underwood stated that, "these fault-finding critics are unable to offer anything but destructive criticism and they advance no definite ideas or substitutes for the administration program. No one can deny," he said, "that business, which was stagnant and paralyzed, has now improved; that agriculture, which was prostrate and flat on its back, is slowly reviving; that with millions of men and women going back to work no one can deny that confidence and hope are returning. We are well on the road to recovery."

"The issue involved in the coming campaign," he asserted, "will not be simply the election of a Republican or a Democrat; it will be the choice between the Old Deal and the 'New Deal'; it will be a choice between the still smoking wreckage of the old gang and the great liberal policies of President Roosevelt to recover the old and sacred rights for which the American people have constantly struggled—homes, livelihood and individual security. I believe the people will follow the gleam of the 'New Deal', the 'New Day' and the Roosevelt program of progress, happiness and prosperity."

"Takes Over" Office

Lieut. Gov. Ole Olson

Amidst the confusion caused by the federal conviction of Gov. William Langer of North Dakota on charges of forcing relief workers to contribute party funds, Lieut. Gov. Ole Olson, above, claiming the gubernatorial office is thereby vacant, is shown taking the oath as the state's chief executive. He plans to seek court authority to back up his action.

Home Protective committee and the Ohio milk marketing act, legislation sponsored by his administration, as evidence of his active support of the New Deal.

With special emphasis he declared that Ohio was among the first states to swing into action on the C. W. A. program, saying this state established a national record in putting 247,000 unemployed men and women to work in 27 days.

'NEW DEAL IN OHIO'

Then the governor opened fire on a previous speaker, Pickrel, who had asserted "what the people in Ohio want is some of the New Deal in this state of ours." The gubernatorial aspirant urged a reduction in governmental expenditures before the enactment of a permanent taxation program.

"I cut the cost of state government from 86 million dollars to 44 millions," said White, referring to Pickrel's remarks. "Some of our candidates better point their finger to where they can cut it further." The governor made the prediction that "with pressure from depositors and shareholders" the legislature, meeting on June 27 to enact building and loan legislation, "will pass those measures within two or three days after they meet."

Pickrel trotted out the public utilities question which he said will be a major issue in the gubernatorial contest.

"You will either have a candidate who will say he is for the abolition of the present state utilities commission and refuse to re-name a single one of its members, or you will have one ruled by the utilities," he charged, adding that he favored a complete revision of state utilities laws.

On the school problem, he said "the Democrats must stand for a state-collected and state-distributed tax to guarantee an education for every child, and for fair compensation for teachers."

"We pay our liquor store men $1,200 a year," he said, "and pay

our teachers only $500. Sometimes they don't even get that."

DEFENDS LEGISLATURES

Lieut. Gov. Charles Sawyer, also a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, defended Governor White and spoke a favorable word for the state legislature whose record he said is no worse than that of assemblies in neighboring states confronted with as difficult problems.

"In seeking the gubernatorial nomination," Sawyer said, "I propose to campaign in such a way as to leave nothing to apologize for in November. I promise an honest administration to every section of the state."

Martin L. Davey, Kenton, third gubernatorial aspirant, did not attend the meeting. He was campaigning elsewhere and sent his regrets, as did U. S. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley, who was in Washington.

A number of Democratic candidates for other offices spoke, including George S. Myers, for secretary of state; Harold G. Mosier, Cleveland, and Dan J. Gunsett, Van Wert, for lieutenant governor, and the three candidates for the congressional nomination from the seventeenth district, Charles A. Beer, Ashland; Emmett Guthrie, Coshocton, and William Ashbrook, Johnstown.

Henry G. Brunner, former Democratic state chairman, and now chief of the Home Owners Loan Corporation in Ohio, whose home is here, sat on the platform between White and West, applauded both but made no address.

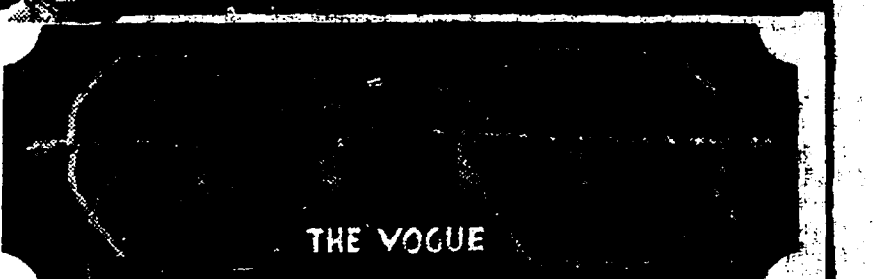

BRUNNER STILL SILENT

Brunner continued to deny he was supporting West against his personal and political friend, White. Friendly to both, he is refraining from endorsing either candidate, Brunner said.

Caravans Not Molested

The only camel caravans between northern and southern China that are never molested by brigands are the "ghost trains" that bring back the bodies of emigrants for burial with their ancestors. These caravans are sometimes a mile long and carry more than 2,000 coffins, four to a camel.

Select Recipes For Summer Menus
From Mrs. Thurn's Best Collections

Dear Friends in Circleville:
It is no use to scold you again about meringues, for I've done it so much that I have used up all my scolding words. But when question after question comes to me, week after week, on lemon meringue pie and how to make a good meringue on any kind of pie, I begin to feel that my scoldings, my good advice and my best recipes are all in vain.
I'm going to give you the meringue instructions once again but please remember that perfect results are only possible with fresh eggs, a regulated oven, and your exact following of the detailed instructions. If the dish is to be served hot, the meringue must be ready to put on as soon as the dish is ready; if to be served cold, let the dish cool and do not put on the meringue until a short time before using. It does not improve with standing. A slow oven should be used; the usual cause of toughness is too high an oven temperature. If the meringue is cooked too fast it will toughen, wrinkle, shrink and liquify. If cooked too slowly it will do the same.

Meringue

Two egg whites beaten; one fourth cup sugar, sifted; one fourth to one teaspoon flavoring. Be sure the eggs are very cold, the whites must be freshly beaten very stiff. The sugar may be powdered or fine granulated and in either case must be sifted. Have the egg whites stiff before any sugar is added. Beat in the sugar with an egg whisk. Add flavoring and spread at once.

Set in lower part of slow oven (about 300 degrees F.) to brown ten to twelve minutes.
When making a larger meringue using three or four egg whites use a little cream of tartar (one eighth teaspoon to two eggs), for a very stiff meringue use three egg whites and six tablespoons of powdered sugar.
I am giving another recipe for plain pastry, once again. The recipe makes a two-crust or covered pie.

Plain Pastry

Two cups flour; one half teaspoon baking powder; one half teaspoon salt; one half cup shortening; five to six tablespoons ice water.
Sift together dry ingredients; add shortening, mix in with a fork or finger tips or pastry blender until crumbly in appearance. Add water, a spoonful at a time, mixing until dry mixture is moistened, just enough to hold it together. Work lightly with hands until smooth. Divide dough in half. Roll out one half on floured board to one eighth inch thick. Fit into pie dish and trim edges even with the pan. Roll out the remaining dough for top crust and fold in half and make a few slits in it near the center of the fold. Put the filling in the lower crust, moisten the edges with water and place the top crust loosely over the filling.
Trim off the edges and press the crust together using the fingers or a fork. Bake in hot oven at 475 degrees F. about ten minutes. Then reduce the heat and bake as directed according to the filling.

Fresh Strawberry Tart

Pastry for a one crust pie, one quart whole fresh strawberries; one cup chopped or sliced strawberries; three fourths cup sugar; one half cup water; one fourth teaspoon salt; one and one half tablespoons cornstarch.
Prepare and bake a pastry shell. Fill with whole strawberries. Mash the chopped berries very fine, heat the sugar water and salt together to boiling. Add chopped berries, stir well and strain. Heat to boiling again. Remove any foam from the top. Mix cornstarch with two tablespoons of cold water, add to the hot mixture stirring constantly. Cook until thick and clear, about ten minutes. Cool, pour over berries in the crust. Cover with a meringue or whipped cream or serve plain.

Lemon Meringue Pie

Pastry for a one crust pie; one cup sugar; three tablespoons cornstarch; two tablespoons flour; one fourth teaspoon salt; grated rind of one lemon; two cups boiling water; three egg yolks; six tablespoons lemon juice; one tablespoon butter; one recipe for meringue.
Bake pastry shell as directed, mix half the sugar with the cornstarch, flour and salt. Add lemon rind, pour on boiling water slowly stirring constantly. Cook in an enamel double boiler continuing to stir until thick and clear. Mix the remaining half of sugar with egg yolks and lemon juice. Add to the first mixture and cook about two minutes longer until thick and smooth. Add butter. Pour into baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue and bake as directed.

Pineapple and Rhubarb Pie

Pastry for one crust pie; two cups finely cut rhubarb; two cups fresh pineapple cubes; one and one third cups sugar; two teaspoons flour.
Make enough pastry that there are eight two-and-one-half inch rounds. Prick each with a fork. Cook the rhubarb, pineapple and sugar together until tender in an enamel saucepan. Pour into a baked pastry shell, sprinkle with flour, arrange the rounds of pastry on top of the pie, bake at 475 degrees F., or hot oven, eight to ten minutes.

Cold Cuts With Aspic

One tablespoon gelatine; two

The program for the meeting was in charge of the London club and President Farquhar introduced as the speaker Rev. W. C. Hickey, who gave an interesting and inspiring talk.
He took his listeners on an interesting vacation trip through life on the ships of "Friendship," "Courtship," "Citizenship" and "Worship." After giving the importance of each ship in the journey through life he closed his talk by saying "When your journey is ended and you have received the benefits of each ship the Master will greet you at the end with the words 'Well Done.'" cans or cups of clear chicken broth; juice of one lemon; salt and pepper to taste.

Soak gelatine in two tablespoons cold water. Heat chicken broth, add salt and pepper to taste. When heated add gelatine, dissolve well. Add lemon juice, strain. Pour into shallow dish. Congeal in refrigerator. Arrange cold chicken, ham and roast beef in alternate slices on platter. Garnish with sliced pickles, pineapple cups filled with relish and the aspic chopped or cut in cubes. Serve very cold.

Jellied Salad

One can or cup tomato juice; juice of one lemon; one can asparagus; one tablespoon gelatine; one teaspoon sugar; grated rind of one lemon; two hard boiled eggs; salt, pepper, celery salt to taste.
Soak gelatine in a little cold water. Heat the tomato juice, add seasoning, lemon juice and rind. Add sugar. Then add gelatine and dissolve it. Strain, pour the jelly to one inch thickness into an oblong mold. When nearly set, add drained asparagus. Add jelly to cover and when this is set add a layer of sliced egg seasoned with salt and pepper. Cover with liquid jelly, let partly set, then fill with layers of asparagus and egg. Cover all with jelly. Let congeal in the refrigerator. Unmold on a bed of lettuce and serve with mayonnaise.

Frozen Deserts Are Deliciously Different

THIS mousse may be frozen in the automatic refrigerator or packed in a mold set in salt and ice for four hours. To make it use one quart of cream; one and one half cups light brown sugar; two tablespoons gelatine; one cup peanut brittle chopped coarsely; one fourth teaspoon salt; three tablespoons hot water; two tablespoons cold water; one teaspoon vanilla.
Whip the cream and fold the sugar into it. Then add the gelatine which has been soaked in the hot water. Let cool, then add the chopped candy, salt and flavoring. If frozen in the refrigerator, pack into the pan and let stand until firm but not too hard. Serve in tall parfait glasses with chopped peanuts on top.

Frozen Cherry Custard

One quart cherries seeded; one cup sugar; three cups milk; one fourth cup cornstarch; three quarters cup sugar additional; two well beaten eggs. Place the cherries in an enameled saucepan with the one cup of sugar. Cook in their own juice and sugar until soft. Meanwhile, heat the milk with the cornstarch, bring to boiling and cook slowly for five minutes. Then add the rest of the sugar, the eggs and the prepared cherries. Mix thoroughly, let chill and freeze as you would freeze ice cream.

This makes a delicious dessert when frozen in flat pans in the automatic refrigerator. After the mixture is firm about one inch from the edge of the pan, beat well and return to the pan to freeze until firm. Then slice and serve on angel cake with cooked cherries as a sauce.

"I take ALL-BRAN every morning, and am as regular as the clock. It has done me a lot of good."
Stephen Higgins, 51 S. Main St., South Norwalk, Conn.
Common constipation frequently causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet this condition can be overcome, usually, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.
Tests show this delicious cereal provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.
The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently this clears out the intestinal wastes.
Isn't this safer than taking harmful patent medicines? Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."
Enjoy ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use it also in making fluffy muffins and breads, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

You'll find it in the.
